DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because the electronics circuit board is improperly numbered 18 in fig. 1. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claim 11 recites the limitation "the mirror glass". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Weller et al. (2004/0032675).

In regard to claim 1, Weller discloses (fig. 8) an interior rearview mirror for vehicles having a mirror housing (fig. 2, 10) in which is accommodated at least one electronics circuit board (230) for at least one sensor (242), the sensor being arranged in the detection region for signals arriving at the interior rearview mirror from outside (page 14, paragraph 0111), wherein the sensor is seated on a sensor circuit board (not shown, see fig. 7, 128), that is spatially separated from and connected by signals to the electronics circuit board (page 10, paragraph 0082, page 14, paragraph 0111).

In regard to claim 1, Weller discloses (fig. 14) an interior rearview mirror for vehicles having a mirror housing (500') in which is accommodated at least one electronics circuit board (530) for at least one sensor (558), the sensor being arranged in the detection region for signals arriving at the interior rearview mirror from outside (page 23, paragraph 0162), wherein the sensor is seated on a sensor circuit board (533), that is spatially separated from and connected by signals to the electronics circuit board (page 24, paragraph 0165).

In regard to claim 2, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the sensor circuit board is arranged in the region between an actuator drive (560) of the interior rearview mirror and a mirror glass (page 24, paragraph 0165).

In regard to claim 3, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the sensor circuit board is attached at the edge of the mirror housing.

In regard to claim 4, Weller discloses (fig. 8) that the sensor circuit board and the electronics circuit board are connected to one another by at least one flexible line (226) (page 14, paragraph 0107).

In regard to claim 5, Weller discloses (fig. 8) that the flexible line is a conductive trace (226a) (page 14, paragraph 0107).

In regard to claim 6, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the sensor circuit board is wirelessly (via 556a, 556b) connected by signals to the electronics circuit board (page 23, paragraph 0164).

In regard to claim 7, Weller discloses (fig. 8) that the sensor is accommodated in a receiving opening in the edge of the mirror housing.

In regard to claim 8, Weller discloses (fig. 8) that the sensor is centered on the edge of the mirror housing (page 6, paragraph 0061).

In regard to claim 9, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the sensor is an EC headlight glare sensor (page 24, paragraph 0165).

In regard to claim 10, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the mirror housing has a frame (514') and a cover (515) connected therewith.

In regard to claim 11, Weller discloses (fig. 14) that the mirror glass is an EC mirror glass (page 24, paragraph 0165).
